В статье дается анализ Международного научного симпозиума по славистике, который состоялся в мае 2025 г. в Салониках. Рассматриваются его контекст, секции, важные доклады, направления и перспективы. Основные выводы заключаются в том, что славяноведение (русистика) в современной Греции является одним из наиболее активных академических научных направлений, требующих детального исследования.
